Object of Rotary

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

First. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

Second. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

Third. The application of the ideal of service in every Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;

Fourth. The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

1. Is it the truth?
2. Is it fair to all concerned?
3. Will it build goodwill and better friendships?
4. Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

President's Message

Dear Centro Ladies,

Blessed day to you!

The day of our governor's visit and induction moves closer, hence, the pressure in us goes high. That's normal. We have endured a lot of pressures in the club but we have ended up having what the youth would call today "Ngiting Tagumpay" afterwards. I have witnessed how the club have handled all the stress that we have encountered in my almost 4 years of being a member, and there is nothing more rewarding seeing the fruits of our hard earned labor.

This just the start ladies. RI President Ravi encouraged us to make a mark in our community. We have proven our worth, we made our mark since 2001. This year, let us carry the gifts we possess and use it to serve the oppressed, underprivileged, unreached community of Santa Rosa.

Yours in Rotary,

World Class President

President's Message on Presidential Citation

K.R. "RAVI" RAVINDRAN
RI PRESIDENT 2015-16

As Rotary leaders, we all have a very important role to play as administrators of this organization. Everything we do in Rotary, every decision we make, must be for the benefit of the members whom we represent and who have placed their confidence in us. Our role is not only to inspire our fellow Rotarians but to be sure Rotary functions at the highest possible level in every respect.

To this end, the 2015-16 Presidential Citation encourages every club president to make full use of Rotary Club Central and the other online tools that have been developed by our Secretariat staff. All of these tools are products of a great deal of time, thought, and investment. They have all been provided to you for a reason: to help you plan your service and to help us at RI aggregate that data.

This year's citation goals can be verified using only the information that clubs provide online. What's more, club and district officers can track their clubs' progress toward each goal — and see where help is needed — by signing in to the new Presidential Citation report.

As responsible administrators, we also have a duty to ensure the future of our organization by finding new and innovative ways to strengthen our membership. I am pleased to announce that we have launched a new benefit program, to which every member is automatically entitled, that brings you discounts and offers from reputable services, establishments, and organizations. We do not expect or wish anyone to join Rotary only for this benefit, but we hope that those who are considering joining or leaving a club will view it as an added value of membership: one more reason to join, one more reason not to leave.

I hope that by making these changes, by putting good governance and accountability and efficiency at the forefront of our Rotary practices, we will set an example for Rotary that will be an enduring gift for many years to come. We will shirk no duty and overlook no opportunity to Be a Gift to the World.

Membership Matters

by Rtn Myrna Valle

Membership has always been a Rotary concern. This cannot be stressed enough and has been repeatedly discussed by speakers during district conferences, who are all saying that we, as Rotarians, should make it our personal advocacy to improve our club's membership numbers.

While the lectures dwelt on the importance of increasing and retaining membership, very little was discussed on "how-to" to do it. But thanks to the Rotary International website, particularly the discussion forum, we can consider these ideas:

Attract young members. This idea has its merits and demerits. Some argued that it is so difficult to recruit the younger set because (1) they are not yet financially stable and (2) they are still busy raising their families and building careers. On the other hand, it is a known fact that a good number of RI presidents who started out at a very young age, proving that the younger set is a good source of quality Rotarians. We can see that the objective of "attracting young members" is probably incomplete; what we are looking to attract are the natural leaders who exhibit strong leadership tendencies at a young age. It could only be an exercise in futility when we try to recruit the younger set just because we want to have younger members.

Editorial

Recruit potential Rotarians. When we say “potential Rotarians”, we refer to those who are “most likely join”; in Sales and Marketing parlance, the “market” of Rotary. These are the people who, knowingly or unknowingly, need or want what Rotary has to offer. Looking at the profile of Rotarians, the average age is anywhere from late 50's to early 60's. One of the reasons is because this is the age when a person has reached his maturity stage. In Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs, we can see that Rotary answers the needs at the topmost level of the pyramid i.e. the self-actualization stage, and these needs are often attained during a person's advanced age.

So why insist on attracting young members who do not belong to our “market”? There is a huge pool of potential Rotarians aged 45 and above who are still able-bodied, willing and raring to serve!

Engage new members. The whole idea of Rotary is service above self; ergo, engagement in service projects is not only needed, it is expected. It is when expectations are not met that we experience attrition of members; therefore it is crucial that our clubs deliver this requirement. Service projects are the meat of a Rotary club's survival; without it, it will just be another group of people meeting once a week.

With meaningful and active service projects, existing members should see to it that all members are engaged. This will ensure fulfillment of the ideals of Rotary, and having a Rotarian for life.

See <https://www.rotary.org/> for more great ideas!

TRACK YOUR CLUB'S PROGRESS ONLINE

Rotary's online tools key to earning this year's Presidential Citation

Rotary's online tools are already providing clubs with valuable support for strengthening their membership and service.

Rotary Showcase helps clubs promote their service projects, and Rotary Ideas gives them a platform to seek support. Rotary Club Central is helping club leaders set membership goals, while Discussion Groups give members a forum for exchanging ideas.

Now, clubs can also use the tools to earn President K.R. Ravindran's Presidential Citation.

This year's citation goals are measurable using the information your clubs provide online. Club and district officers can track a club's progress toward its goals — and see where help is needed — by logging into the new Presidential Citation report.

This new process replaces the paper forms and reports that clubs and district governors submitted in the past. Some activities will be verified by the information clubs enter in Rotary Club Central, while others, like donations to The Rotary Foundation or participation in a Discussion Group, will be confirmed automatically after the action is taken.

The citation goals connect Rotary's strategic goals to club objectives. By completing the activities, clubs will strengthen their membership and their ability to serve their communities while enhancing Rotary's visibility and reputation. Another benefit is that clubs participating in the citation program will become familiar with Rotary's various online tools.

"Thanks to enhancements made to the tools we use to gather and analyze Rotary data, all levels of Rotary — from the clubs through the district and zone — can measure and assess their performance."

— K.R. Ravindran

TRACK YOUR PROGRESS

The new club report offers immediate updates of your club's progress toward each of the citation's goals, making it easy for clubs to see what areas need attention. It's also a chance for clubs to verify the accuracy of Rotary's data. (Clubs should contact data@rotary.org for corrections.)

The report for district and zone officers aggregates their clubs' activities across seven categories: mandatory activities, membership, Foundation giving, online tool adoption, humanitarian service, New Generations, and public image. Governors can use this report to support clubs struggling to complete certain goals, as well as to track their own progress toward the District Governor Presidential Citation (achieved when at least 50 percent of a district's clubs earn the Presidential Citation).
